

Book Fair

On Thursday, September 10, 2009, is the book fair. During the open house on Thursday, you will be able to go to the library. You can buy books, posters, games, and school supplies. They have lots of great books in stock. The Hunger Games, by Suzanne Collins, and the sequel Catching Fire. These are great books and a favorite of Mrs. Efseaff; she recommends them to her students. Another great book is the Vladimir_Tod Chronicles by Heather Brewer. Tenth Grade Bleeds is the third book in the series and just came out. Eighth Grade Bites and Ninth Grade Slays are also available. Kateri Bellar says, “I went to the book fair and bought a lot of my books I liked.” They also have lots of other books for different kinds of students to enjoy. Every time you buy a book, the librarian, Mrs. Shubaker, will give you a piece of paper. There is a jar and you have to guess the number of animal crackers inside. The winner gets fifteen dollars and second place is ten dollars and third place is five dollars. Other things like pens and stuff for school can be purchased as well as games. So look at everything and buy what you like and GO HAWKS!!!!!!! – Kellie Davis
